

DAY'S REGISTRATION 131,676 IN N. Y. CITY

Increase of 32,433 Over the First Day Despite Inclement Weather.

EAST SIDE TURNS OUT

Heavy Decline From Figures of Last Year Shown in Returns.

LITERACY TESTS CONFUSE

Some Certificates of School Principals Are Refused by Boards.

Registration moved slowly yesterday under inclement weather conditions. The total was 131,676, an increase of 32,433 over the first day's registration, which was 99,243, but a decrease from the figures of 1920, also a gubernatorial year. The second day's registration last year was 51,097.

The heavier registration in Manhattan was in the East Side and other congested districts, and there was little activity on the West Side above Fourteenth street. Some difficulties over the literacy test were again experienced on the lower East Side, certificates issued by school principals certifying to the voter's ability to read and write English being refused acceptance.

The results of the two days of registration gave a total of 270,750, or a decline of 69,512 from last year's figures for the two days. This was an increase of 52,389 over the first two days of registration week in 1918, but a decrease of 42,091 from the two days' registration of 1920.

Women in the Eleventh Assembly district outnumbered the men nearly 30 per cent. At the Hamilton Republican Club, 550 West 113th street, it was reported that the number of men and women registrants was almost equal.

The results of the second day's registration in the five boroughs was as follows:

McAneny Says Hylan Puts Fun in Transit

WHEN asked yesterday for comments on Mayor Hylan's claim that he was entitled to credit for the Interborough reorganization, Chairman McAneny said: "The Mayor certainly does contribute a bit of humor now and then to a serious situation."

General O'Ryan added: "A lot of people thought they won the war."
